Admission only 25 cents. No half price.

E. W. Pebry, Equestrian Director. S. G. Woolston, Ring Master. One of the prominent features of this Grand Combination, is the performances of the wonderful Educated Elephants, (Anthony and Cleopatra) from the Parisian, London, New York, and Philadelphia Theatres-having performed at the last named places for upwards of 100 nights, to crowded houses. The most astonishing display of animal training and instinct ever beheld. They march with military precision; mount a pedestral not over a foot in diameter, ten f et from the ground, where one of them will balance on his hind legs, and perform the most incredible feat of standing upon his head! In the course of the performances, Anthony will play the hand organ, while Cleopatra will dance in perfect time to the music.

The Elephants were brought to this country in March last, by Mr. Sands, personally; having purchased them only by bidding over the greatest wild beast proprietor in the world.

The performance will commence with a new and beautiful Cavalcade, entitled, "The Persian Cavalry:" introducing, in a series of rapid evolutions, the world-renowned exercises of that warlike people.

MISCELLANEOUS READING. ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.

By the Golden Age, a young lady arrived in search of a truant lover, whom she had not beard of for three years. Determined to ascertain the cause of such silence, she undertook the voyage. Yesterday, in passing through Second street, she espied a person bearing some faint resemblance to her former swain, and nothing daunted, questioned him; and was gratified to learn she had put her finger on the right man. He did not recognize her, however, and could scarce realize the truth of her avowal. Explanations were had, and it seems that, meeting with reverses in fortune incident to California, and a heavy spell of sickness had driven him to desperation, and, conceiving his name to be his evil genius, he improvised another, and. in changing the same, forswore all kindred and former friends until he had once again gained a pile. In the joy of the recovery of her old love, woman like, she forgot and forgave all, and last night the twain were made one - San Francisco Alta Californian.

THE TOMB OF "THE DUKE."

The Wellington sarcophagus was wrought and polished by steam power, in the parish of Luxulyan, Cornwall, in the field in which the huge "boulder" stone of porphyry, weighing upwards of seventy tons, nearly the whole of it above the surface of the ground, had been standing for ages. It is not a figure of speech, but a fact, that the continent had been searched in vain for a sepulchral stone, sufficiently grand for a sarcophagus that should contain the mortal remains of the great Duke. That stone was at last found at Cornwall, and the whole of the work was executed by workmen in the employ of the Treffry estate, whose representatives were intrusted in the matter throughout --The cost of this unparalleled tomb was £1,-100. It had received a high polish before it left its native country.

HANDWRITING OF SOVEREIGNS.

How characteristic is the signature of Queen Elizabeth! stately, tall, and queenlike, commanding and imperious, but defaced with ignoble power and vanity; her hand varied remarkably at different periods, as her actions did. Henry the Seventh wrote a cold and formal hand; Henry the Eighth, wrote a strong and self-willed; Richard the Third wrote a reckless and dashing; Anna Bolena wrote a steady, composed hand, not without elegance; Catharine Parr's writing is pedantic with much cold persevering energy; Mary. Queen of Scots, a plain and elegant hand, with much clearness and firmness; Edward the Sixth wrote a band of laborious pedantry; Queen Anne wrote a motherly hand;

James the first, a vulgar, obtrusive hand.

Two literary ladies were lately witnesses in a trial. One of them, upon bearing the usual questions asked, "What is your name? Bob Ridley. (John Mulligan) who will sing a and how old are you?" turned to her companion and said, "I do not like to tell my age; not that I have any objection to its being known, but I don't want it published in all the newspapers." "Well," said the witty Mrs. S., "I will tell you how you how you ood assertment of Servant's wear. ap 29 phants in harness. And after proceeding through to all hearsay evidence; tell them you don't know of it is by hearsay." The ruse took,

and the question was not pressed.
